

Dr. Daisy Monterroso, LMHC, BCaBA

dm2069@nova.edu

Professional Summary

I am a passionate about educating and I have a strong desire to connect learning and experience for students through knowledge and my clinical experience. I am a strong communicator who can confidently and clearly supervisor, lecture, or mentor students. My outgoing, energetic, and motivating personality is often used to encourage mentees and students to participate in discussions while encouraging the value of group work. I am quickly able to learn new software systems and am skilled at using technology to facilitate and enhance learning. I believe in being a collaborative professional while contributing the to departmental objectives. My creative nature is used to optimize the experience for both students and faculty.

Professional Skills

- Strong organizational skills to ensure class information including syllabi, assignments, and other documentation are accessible and easy to understand.
- Clear communicator and confident presenter to effectively instruct students in a way that is concise and understandable.
- Patient, reassuring, and enthusiastic when meeting with students to discuss personal progress, answer questions, and assigns extra-credit work.
- Committed team player to work successfully with other faculty to establish course guidelines, modify curriculum, and set departmental goals.
- Skilled understanding of technology and willing to learn about new software interfaces to enhance the learning experience of students.

Education

Barbara Goleman Senior High – Miami, FL
High School Diploma- June 2009

Miami-Dade College – Miami, FL
Associates Degree in Psychology, April 2011

University of Florida – Gainesville, FL
Bachelors Degree in Psychology, April 2013

Nova Southeastern University – Ft Lauderdale, FL
Masters Degree in Mental Health Counseling with a concentration in ABA, December 2015

Nova Southeastern University – Ft Lauderdale, FL
Doctorate in Marriage and Family Therapy, May 2019

Conference Presentations

FABA 2018 – Integrating SFBT Techniques to Increase Parental Compliance During Parent Training Sessions.

Dr. Daisy Monterroso, LMHC, BCaBA

dm2069@nova.edu

Professional Experience

Progressive Behavioral Services

February 2014 – January 2017

BCaBA: Responsible for creating, and implementing behavioral plans, designing programs, assessing with VP-MAPP, ABLLS-R, and AFLES, and other assessment measures while working in the client's home, school, and/or community. Clients include children ages 2-17.

Broward Youth Treatment Center

January 2015 – December 2015

Mental Health Counseling Intern: Responsible for leading group therapies (Substance Abuse and CBT), leading individual therapy sessions, completing comprehensive bio-psychosocial, treatment plans, shadowing family sessions and suicide assessments, completing crisis assessments, and completing assessments such as SASSI, BDI, URICA, SCL-90-R, ASAM with residential juveniles, while being monitored by a LMHC.

Brief Therapy Institute – External Practicum

January 2017 – August 2017

Doctoral Student: Delivering high quality mental health services to individuals, couples, and families in the university's local community, particularly to under-served populations

Brief Therapy Institute – Supervisor Assistant

June 2018 – December 2018

Supervision Assistant: Providing supervision to other Masters and Doctoral Students while completing their internal practicums. Providing feedback, support, and

Monterroso Integrative Services, INC

January 2016 – Present

Owner/Clinical Director: Delivering high quality mental health services, which include ABA, individual therapy, couples counseling, and more to individuals, couples, and families. Responsibilities also include for providing supervision to 15 team members and supervisors for team support and case management

Nova Southeastern University – Adjunct Professor

January 2020 – Present

Adjunct Professor: Mentoring and teaching students during internal practicum.

Certification and Memberships

Certifications/Licenses:

DMFT – Doctorate in Marriage and Family Therapy

LMHC – Licensed Mental Health Counselor

BCaBA – Board Certified assistant Behavior Analyst

Additional: CPR Certification, Basic First Aid Certification, Blood borne Pathogens Certification, PCM Level 1 Certified.

Memberships: American Psychological Association, Florida Association for Behavior Analysis, American Association of Graduate Student, & Psi Chi Honor Society, Delta Kappa Omicron (DKO), American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy

